----- Supported operating systems: ----- See larger Screenshots below..1. Field of the Invention
The present invention relates to an information processing device and method, a storage medium storing a program, and a readable recording medium and, more particularly, to a technique for displaying an operation screen in accordance with a usage environment of an information processing device. 2. Description of the Background Art Various techniques have heretofore been proposed to improve operability when processing is executed by using a portable information processing device such as a PDA (Personal Digital Assistant). For example, according to the technique proposed in Japanese Patent Laying-Open No. 2000-051218, in a case where an operation menu for a plurality of items is displayed, in a portable information processing device such as a portable telephone, a PDA or the like, a user is capable of selecting an item to be operated on a selected menu. Further, according to the technique proposed in Japanese Patent Laying-Open No. 2000-129736, an icon representing a shape and/or a function corresponding to an operation button is displayed in a portable information processing device. The portable information processing device according to this technique automatically shifts to a display of a selected menu in accordance with an icon when an operation button is pressed. Incidentally, a technique has been proposed for displaying a plurality of pages in an information processing device such as a portable telephone. According to this technique, when the telephone receives a phone call or when a received call is rejected, an operation menu is displayed and a user is capable of operating buttons such as OK, Cancel, or Send and Receive. In the conventional technique, however, in a case where, in a portable information processing device, an operation screen for one or more predetermined items is displayed in accordance with an environment of use of the device, an operation screen for one or more other predetermined items is displayed, even in a case where the portable information processing device is not operated. For example, in a case where a portable information processing device receives a phone call, even if the portable information processing device has not yet been used, an operation screen for Send and Receive is displayed. In a case where the portable information processing device is not used, however, it is not preferable to display the operation screen for Send and Receive, and there is a
